represents. Read a story, sing a song, or show a short video clip. For example, before using a dragon coloring page, watch a short video of a dragon dance.

3. Encourage Creativity: Don't be afraid to let children add their own embellishments or color outside the lines (within reason!). The goal is to foster their individuality and joy in the process.
4. Celebrate Effort: Praise their effort and progress, not just perfection. Acknowledge their hard work in tracing, coloring, or completing a puzzle.
5. Integrate with Other Activities: Worksheets are just one piece of the puzzle. Combine them with crafts, songs, games, and sensory play to create a holistic learning experience. For instance, after completing a lantern craft, do a worksheet that involves counting lanterns.
6. Make it Interactive: Turn it into a game! Ask them to "find all the red circles" or "count how many fireworks" in a picture.
