Accommodation Choices

Consider renting an apartment through platforms like Airbnb for more space and the convenience of a kitchen, which can be a lifesaver for picky eaters or late-night snacks. Hotels with family rooms or connecting rooms are also a good option.

Food and Drink: Staying Energized

Pack plenty of snacks and water. While Paris has many fantastic restaurants, sometimes a quick bite from a boulangerie or a picnic in a park is ideal. Don't be afraid to try local bakeries and markets for delicious and affordable options.

Pacing Your Itinerary

Don't try to cram too much into each day. Children need downtime. Schedule in breaks, park visits, and spontaneous moments. Flexibility is key to a stress-free family trip.

Language Basics

While many Parisians speak English, knowing a few basic French phrases like "Bonjour" (Hello), "Merci" (Thank you), and "S'il vous plaît" (Please) will be appreciated.

If you have very young children, consider whether a stroller or a baby carrier will be more practical for navigating stairs and crowded areas.
